Opening hours:

The municipal archives of the town of Schönebeck (Elbe) are open for users on Tuesdays and Thursdays only by prior arrangement. The municipal archives are a centre for the documentation of the history of the town of Schönebeck (Elbe) and are also a public service provider. This is an active cultural institution run by the local authority and is part of the region's cultural life. It seeks to collaborate with institutions, societies and individuals with similar aims and objectives; these include other archives, the Museum of the Salzland district and clubs and societies concerned with regional history and culture.
